Preface

In pursuance of the directives of the Hon'ble High Court of Bombay at Goa, there was a need to prepare an 'authentic translation' of the Code of Comunidades, which was approved by the Legislative Enactment No. 2070 and was published in Portuguese in the Government Gazette on 15th April, 1961.

The task to get this translation done was entrusted by the Government to Shri Egipcio Noronha Rodrigues, and for this purpose he was authorized by the Directorate of Official Language to undertake the work, and Senior Advocate Mr. Manohar S. Usgaonkar has reviewed the translation of the Code, being well versed in Portuguese law.

In the said Code of Comunidades, there are certain words like Foro, Zonn, Zonnkars, Derrama and others which are often used in dealing with matters of Comunidades – some of those words are expressed in local language and others are in Portuguese. Even though, the corresponding translation in English has been given, as far as possible, the original words which were used for a long time have also been added to facilitate those who have to deal with the Comunidades.

It may be further clarified that while carrying out this work, there was need to go through different translations of the Code that are existing at present and these translations, which were being followed for a long time, have been of great help.

The State Government is grateful to Senior Advocate Mr. Manohar S. Usgaonkar for having spared his most valuable time inspite of his multiple activities and for having given his precious contributions to carry out and complete the task entrusted to him, and to Shri Egipcio Noronha Rodrigues for having taken the pain to translate the Code.

Panaji, June, 2012.

GENERAL - GOVERNMENT
Legislative Enactment No. 2070

I – From a very long time the need was being felt for a publication of new Code of Comunidades.

The 1933 Code had undergone profound changes, as a result of the successive and frequent alterations introduced in it.

It is true that many of those alterations have been made by amending the articles of the Code it is none the less true that many others have resulted from the framing of rules which renewed, modified or added the provisions of the Code, without making any reference to those articles.

This has created chaos in the enforcement of different concepts which govern the comunidades of Goa, spreading varied legislative enactments, based many a times in divergent views.

Indeed, the many legislative enactments that have altered the provisions of the Code have adhered to the basic principles, compound in provisions settled in it, for in many cases, the solutions adopted amounted to the application of new and different principles, if not actually contradictory, to those that had guided the framing of the Code of 1933. This situation has given rise, alongside the repealed provisions of the Code, to difficulties in harmonizing many other provisions contained in new enactments.

In this way the advantages of having one Code of comunidades have lost to a great extent.

Under these circumstances though the time has come for a total revision of the Code, it is felt not advisable to proceed with such a revision, by introducing new changes in the Code that would mean to worsen further to the existing confusion. Instead it was found that it was better to condense the work of revision in a new single publication.

But the publication of the new Code of comunidades, besides the purpose referred to, has another aim, namely to move closer to what public awareness demands: constant improvement in the Comunidades institutions.

For this purpose it was taken into consideration the experience of many years and the lessons which the said experience, could offer and it was also considered the progress made in doctrine, legislation and jurisprudence with regard to legal concepts similar to those prevailing in the comunidades.

It is true that the perfect functioning of these comunidades and of the services, which orient and supervise them does not depend only on the relevant legal structure but also on the ethical standing of the men on whom the comunidades can count.

However, there is a lot that the administrative organization can achieve.

It is hoped that the changes included here may contribute to this and that the comunidades can justify the reasons of its long and relevant existence.

II – Changes in the legislation may or may not have a serious influence on the people, but always leads to a period of uncertainty until the interpretation of the new legislation is well settled.

The law should be at the service of the interests of the collectively, among which it is of fundamental importance the peace or tranquillity of existence backed by the norms by which it is governed.

These laws should not therefore be modified, except after considering all the circumstances and possibilities and when it may be considered that a greater harm could be done to the society by the injustice or other deficiencies in the law in force, than will result from the upset to the security of relations caused by replacement of the law.

If this principle is good in regards to any law, it will all the more be so in the case of a Code, in view of the greater amplitude and stability of its provisions; it attains the highest accuracy as in the case of the Code of Comunidades.

The law should not limit itself to satisfy the complaints formulated in practice or to give effect to the state of legal awareness of the collectively, unless it assumes also the role to guide the life of society and to further society's progress.

In fact, a general review of the comunidades laws and its compilation in a new Code, did not appear to be free of danger, when the order of the Government-General of 15th May, 1958 (Boletim Oficial, No. 20, 2nd Series, of 15th May, 1958) was published.

The revision had to be as far as possible, cautious, by avoiding all the changes which were unnecessary. No where else, such changes would have been so harmful, as in the laws governing our comunidades, in which the extraordinary richness and complexity of relations, the multiplicity of aspects worthy of reconsideration and the difficulties of reconciling the different interests are all of the highest degree.

The Code, now published, has not kept distant from such procedure, nor sought to be original, for the sake of originality. It was only altered, in what appears essential, by attempting to do so by furthering positive law without upsetting the life in a reasonable combination of forces - progress which demands full justice and more perfect organization of institutions and a tradition that demand stability and security of norms.

III – Without touching the formed charges made, which were numerous and covered almost all the articles of the old Code, we shall give, briefly, a short indication of the modifications of major impact introduced in the new Code.

The foro which the comunidades were paying to the National Exchequer have been abolished. By doing so, the historical truth was restored, which was stressed by Cunha Rivara – by acknowledging that the property of the comunidades belong to them, as of their full ownership and that the foro do not correspond to their bifurcation in dominium utile and dominium directum the latter being of the State and the former of the comunidades.

The lease of the paddy fields – a matter which was covered by various and scattered legislation – was given special attention in order to have a perfect reconciliations of interests of the tenants and the comunidades and change of the system of sanctions for non-compliance of the terms of agreement by those leaseholders by making it softer to the indispensable extent, the anomaly of imprisonment for failure to pay the rents has also been made softer, but without compromising with the safeguards of the income of comunidades.

The improvement of agriculture was one of the concern which was present in mind, while passing the new statute.

To this effect steps were taken, which, it is hoped, will produce beneficial result to the agricultural economy of Goa, through the plans of work of permanent character to be prepared annually giving priority to irrigation works in the fields and of reinforcement of embankments and sluice gates.

The rebate on the rent of fields of comunidades has been regulated so that the malpractice could be prevented, as far as possible, which was as harmful to the comunidades as it is to all those who take share in their profits, which often constitute the main source of income for their livelihood.

If on one hand the grounds for applying for rebate have been restricted, on the other hand, legal provisions have been introduced whereby the grounds invoked are to be proved with greater strictness. The dissolution of property of comunidadade has been prohibited on grounds which do not require any explanations.

When the Code provides for the reconstitution of the extinct comunidades and the formation of new ones, it would be illogical to allow the dissolution of the comunidades already existing.

The creation of association of tenants shall depend on the proposal of the comunidades or an act of the Government, if the same is found necessary, and the elimination of the posts of the collectors of rents and watchmen was the result of ineffectiveness of functions, as revealed by experience.

Finally, regarding some rights and other privileges that the employees of the comunidades were enjoying, these rights have been restricted and new obligations were imposed and great strictness has been applied regarding incompatibility and prohibition to which they are subject.

IV – In this way, the reasons in brief are given as to why modifications of some of the main provisions in force have been introduced in this Code.

It would be impossible to enumerate and justify in this preamble all of them.

The idea behind it, was to contribute for the improvement and amelioration of working of the comunidades and it was inspired by the desire to attend to the most pressing needs.

Everything, however, would not come up to the expectation without the dedicated co-operation of many people.

It is sincerely hoped that such a co-operation will be forthcoming at all times and lead to valuable and enduring benefits.

In the exercise of the powers granted by article 151 of the Constitution, in accordance with the vote of the Legislative Council, the Governor-General of the State of India hereby determines the following:

TABLE No. 8

(Article 1, para. 3)

Of the transferable shares of the comunidades of Tiswadi, Salcetc, Bardez, Mormugao and Ponda with the indication of the modality about apportioning the respective income of the association and of fixing the annual dividend.

TISWADI

Azossim:— Multiply the number of zonns (personal and of the Saints) by 56(*) (2 of “culacharins” and 4 of widows of “gaonkars” should be taken as 1); to the product the number of the shares (300) is to be added and by this sum the net income will be divided. The quotient will indicate what pertains to each share and, the multiplication of this quotient by 56 will indicate what pertains to the zonns of the Saints. One half of the amount of this zonn (of the Saints) will be the dividend of the zonn of culacharins or their orphans and one fourth will be the dividend of the zonn of the widows of the “gaonkars”. The income of the “namoxins” will be divided by the “gaonkars” zonnkars and this quotient added to the zonn of the saints (which is the product of the multiplication of 56 by that which pertains to each share) will be the dividend of one zonn of “gaonkar” or of their orphans - 300.

Bambolim:— The net income will be divided by 1000 shares and the quotient will show what pertains to each share. The product of 697 shares is to be distributed among the number of the “gaunkars” zonnkars and their widows; the product of 249 shares is to be distributed among the number of “culacharins” and their widows and the product of the remaining 54 shares (transferable) will be allotted to the shareholders according to the number of shares possessed by them - 1000.

Batim:— After the net income is calculated, with the exclusion of the income of “namoxins” and of the fields of “honra” e “coita” one forty eighth will show what pertains to each share of “tangas”. The number of the personal zonns of “gaonkar” as well as “culacharins” will be multiplied by 53 (*) (taking the zonns of 2 male orphans or of 4 female orphans or widows as one) and to the product, the number of the shares of zonn (273) will be added and also will be added 73 shares proceeding from the fractions of the number of the zonnkars of 1881 pertaining to their group, by this sum, of the net income will be divided. The quotient will show what pertains to the share of “jono” and multiplying the same quotient by 53 and adding to its product the quota of the said 73 shares of the group of the zonnkars (obtained by the division of their profits by the number of the zonnkars in the same proportion as that under which they might have received their zonns) the resulting sum will indicate what pertains to the zonn of “culacharins”. The sum resulting from the addition of the zonn of “culacharins” to the quota of the income of “nomoxim” and of the fields of “honra e coita” will indicate what pertains to the zonn of “gaonkar”. The dividend corresponding to 91 shares taken for rounding the number will be added to $17/48^{ths}$ of the net income of the next year - 400.

Calapur:— The number of the personal zonns (taking those of 3 widows as one) will be multiplied by 9 (*); to the product, the number of shares (200) will be added and also will be added 355 shares proceeding from the fractions of the number of the zonnkars of 1881 belonging to the group of zonnkars and the net income will be divided by that sum. The quotient will indicate what pertains to each share and the sum of the product of the multiplication of the same quotient by 9 with the quota of the said 355 shares of the group of “zonnkars” (obtained by dividing the income of the same shares by the number of zonns) will indicate what pertains to the zonn, and further adding to this last amount the quotient of the division of the income of “covados”, in accordance with the respective “vangor” or group, this will be the dividend of the zonn of different “vangor” - 200.

Carambolim:— Multiply the number of personal zonns by 131 (*) (taking 2 of the “gaonkars” of half zonn, 4 of unmarried daughters or widows as one), add to the product the number of the shares (100) and also 247 shares proceeding from the fractions of the number of zonnkars of 1881, belonging to this group; and for this sum shall be divided the net income. The quotient will indicate what pertains to the share and multiplying the same quotient by 131 and adding to its product the quota of 246 shares of the group of zonnkars (obtained by dividing the income of the same shares by the number of zonnkars in the same proportion as under which they receive their zonns) the resulting sum will indicate what pertains to the zonn of “gaonkar” or to the zonn of his orphan – 100.

Chorao:— Calculate the net income by separating in the account sheet 506$20, 4 for the “tenças” (annuities) of “gaonkars” and of shareholders 163$30 for 35 shares of rounding, and 4.881, 2 for shares of “tangas brancas”, as 90 were expropriated by the payment of the indivisible remainder (20$20) to the Government Treasury, distribute the net income to the zonnkars in the same proportion as their profits. The income of nomoxins, after deduction of the proper expenses, added to 271$00 of the “tença” of the “gaonkars” will be distributed only to the “gaonkars” who will be paid this amount on account of the “tença”. The remaining amount of “tenças” (235$30) as 37$90 were expropriated by the payment of (947$40) arising from the indivisible remainder the remaining amount of the “tenças” (235$30) added to 163$30 and 4.881$70 (Total 5.280$10) is to be divided by the number of the shares (1.100). The quotient will indicate what pertains to each share. The product of 34 shares taken for rounding will be carried as income in the accounts of the next year - 1.100.

Corlim:— Multiply the number of personal zonn by 27 (*) (taking 4 zonns of widows or orphan daughters as 1) and add to its product the number of shares (100) and more 27 proceeding from the fractions of the number of the zonnkars of 1881, belonging to their group; Divide by this sum the net income and the quotient will indicate what pertains to each share; and multiplying the same quotient by 27 and by adding to that product the quota of the said 27 shares of the group of zonnkars (obtained by dividing the profits of the same by the number of zonnkars) the result will indicate what belongs to the zonn of “gaonkar” or to his orphan children - 100.

Gancim:— Multiply the number of the personal zonns by 357(*) (taking the zonns of 4 widows as one); add to the product the number of the shares (2800) and divide by this sum the net income. The quotient will indicate what pertains to each share; and by multiplying the same quotient by 357 the product will indicate what pertains to the personal zonn - 2.800.

Goa Velha:— The net income is to be divided by the number of the shares (4300); and the quotient will indicate what pertains to each share - 300.

Goalim-Moula : — The net income shall be divided by the number of shares (300), and the quotient shall indicate what pertains to each share - 300.

Distribute the net income among the number of the zonnkars - 300.

Jua:— Multiply the number of the personal zonns by 8(*) (considering 4 zonns of the widows or of the orphan daughters as one) and add to its product the number of the shares (100) and also 119 shares proceeding from the fractions of the number of the zonnkars of 1881 belonging to their group; by this sum divide the net income. The quotient will indicate what pertains to each share; and by multiplying the same quotient by 8 and adding to the product the quota of the said 119 shares of the group of the zonnkars (obtained after dividing their income by the number of zonnkars in the same proportion as under which they receive their zonns), it will indicate what pertains to each personal “zonn” -100.

Mandur:— Multiply the number of personal zonns by 30(*) ; add to the product the number of the shares (100) and divide by this sum the net income. The quotient will indicate what belongs to the share and the multiplication of the same quotient by 30 will indicate what pertains to the personal zonn.

Malar:— Calculate the net income and take aside in the account sheet 1.446$00; Divide this sum among the number of the shares (300) allotting to the Govt. Treasury that which corresponds to 229 shares; and the dividend of 71 shares will be carried forward as income in the next year. The net income will be distributed by the number of the zonnkars in the usual fashion - 300.

By this sum divide the net income. The quotient will show what belongs to each share; and the product of the multiplication of the same quotient by 4, added to the quota of the said 54 shares of the group of the zonnkars (obtained by dividing the profits of the same by the number of the zonnkars) in the same proportion as under which they receive their zonns will indicate what pertains to each personal zonn - 100.

Murda:— The net income will be divided by the number of the shares (3.700) and the quotient will indicate what pertains to each share - 3.700.

Narao:— Calculate the net income and take aside in the account sheet the sum of 183$40. Allot this sum to the Govt. Treasury on account of the 38 non-transferable shares of invariable income. Next, multiply the number of the personal zonns by 19(*) taking as one share 4 of the widows or of the unmarried daughters; and add to the product the number of the transferable shares (62) and also 5 shares proceeding from the fractions of the number of the zonnkars of 1881 belonging to their group. By this sum divide the net income. The quotient will indicate what pertains to each share. And multiplying the same quotient by 19 and adding to the product the quota of the said 5 shares of the group of the zonnkars (obtained by dividing the profits of the same shares by the number of the zonnkars in the same proportion as under which they receive their zonn) the resulting sum will indicate what pertains to each personal zonn - 100.

Navelim:— Calculate the net income taking aside in the account sheet the sum of 2.106$30. Allot this sum to the Govt. Treasury on account of the 439 non-transferable shares of invariable income. Next, multiply the number of the personal zonns by 16(*) (taking 2 of “culacharins” as one share) add to the product the number of the transferable shares (61) and also 8 shares proceeding from the fractions of the number of the zonnkars of 1881 belonging to their group. By this sum the net income will be divided. The quotient will indicate what belongs to each share; and multiplying the same quotient by 16 and adding to the product the quota of the dividends of the said 8 shares of the group of the zonnkars and the net income of the “namoxins” (obtained by dividing their income by the number of the zonnkars in the same proportions as under which they receive their zonn) the result will indicate what pertains to each zonn of “gaonkar” or to each zonn of their orphans. Half of that which belongs to the zonn of “gaoncar” (excluding the quota of the “namoxins”) will be the dividend of the zonn of the “culacharins” or his orphans -500.

Neura-o-Grande:— The net income of the fields of the comunidade excluding the properties known as “namoxins de Tomas Coelho Peres” and also those of the four enclosed associations will be divided by 19121 shares and the quotient will indicate what pertains to each share. The produce of the shares taken for rounding will be carried forward to the income of the next year - 19300.

Enclosed associations of “adverica”, “vanvans” of Gopala Sinai, Sinani and clerk’s office

As for the adverica, deducting only what is necessary for the payment of half per cent. of the rent of the field (Adverica) belonging exclusively to the group of the shareholders of the same, the remainder will indicate what belongs to each share of the adverica. As for the vanvans, the rent of their fields, after deducting only half per cent. is to be divided into three parts, one to be applied to the group of the shareholders of Gopala Sinai in the proportion of their shares, the second in the same manner to those of Sinani, and the third will be divided again into three parts, applying one of them to the shareholders of the clerk’s office, and the other two to the group of the zonnkars of the main comunidadade.

Renovadim:— The net income is to be divided by the number of the shares (1.000) and the quotient will indicate what pertains to each share; its dividend will be allotted to the shareholders according to their number of shares without any more right to receive the paddy as it is done now, because its price was included in the value of the share - 1.000.

Siridao:— The deficit or the surplus of this comunidadade will be divided by the number of the shares (200) and the quotient will indicate what pertains to each share - 200.

Telaulim de Santana:— As there are in this comunidadade two different fields, one belonging exclusively to the zonnkars and other to the shareholders, the net income of each group will be calculated separately. After one third is separated from the income of the group of zonnkars, the remaining two thirds are to be divided by the number of the zonnkars and the quotient will indicate what pertains to each zonn. One third of the net income of the group of zonnkars added to the rent of the field of the shareholders and to the sum of the limited quit-rents (foros limitados) belonging to this group constitutes the income of the group of the shareholders. From this, after deduction of the proportional allowance (derrama) to the Agrarian Chamber, the allowance of the receiver (sacadoria), the derrama of “melaga” and the salary of the servant (only expenses to which the shareholders are liable), the net rent will be divided by the number of the shares (1600) and the quotient will indicate what pertains to each share - 1600.

Taleigao:— After the net income is calculated, it will be divided by the personal zonns of the “gaonkars” and their widows (considering zonns of 2 widows as one) and by 5 zonns (of honour and precedence); the proceeds of these 5 zonns will be separated from the said income and the remainder will be divided by 4. One fourth, added to the one fourth of the expenditure effected in respect of the burials, will be deducted from the amount to be divided and the remainder, added to the said proceeds of 5 zonns will be the amount to be divided for the zonns of the “gaonkars”, their widows and for 5 zonns and therefore, the same amount will be distributed among them in the same proportion as under which they receive their zonns. To the first zonn of honour, 28$30 will be added and it will be allotted in the usual form and the produce of the other 4 (transferable) will be divided among the 100 shares of zonns. The dividend corresponding to 24 shares taken for its rounding will be added, in the next year, to the proceeds of the said 4 zonns before the distribution is effected.

Next, the number of the personal zonns of “culacharins” will be multiplied by 6(*) and the number of the shares of “tangas” (600) will be added to the product, by this sum, the said fourth part of the net income brought together with the fourth part of the burials, will be divided and the quotient will indicate what belongs to each share and the product of the multiplication of the same quotient by 6 will indicate what pertains to the zonn of “culacharin” - 700.

Association of Passo de Ambarim:— Calculate the net income by separating in the accounts sheet 566$72; divide this amount by the number of the shares and the dividend of the 90 shares will be carried forward to the next year. The net income will be divided among the zonnkars - 100. (*)this number is of the shares corresponding to the zonns.

SALSETE

Adsulim:— It has got 100 shares. The dividend of each share will be calculated by dividing the sum to be distributed or the dividend as fixed in the annual statement by the said number of shares.

Ambelim:— It has got 16.750 shares.

Aquem:— It has got 2400 shares. The dividend of each share will be calculated by dividing the dividend fixed in the annual statement by the said number of shares.

Assolna:— It has got 20.000 shares (a).

Benaulim:— It has got 11.700 shares. It has got also members with right to personal zonn of three different classes, namely: “gaoncars”, natives and “zonnkars”.

To all these three classes are belonging 2899 shares registered as of the group of zonnkars. To the class of “gaoncars”, besides this, belongs the “Vangorbarnim”, amounting into 17$. The personal zonn of the 3rd class zonnkars is equivalent to 4 shares plus the quota of 246 shares, both taken from the said 2899 so that they may form their separate group. The zonn of 1st and 2nd class (“gaoncars” and natives) is equivalent to the quota of the remaining shares after deducting from the said 2899 shares those which were allotted to the zonnkars of the 3rd class. But, during the division between them, the “gaonkar” will be separated as one unit and the natives as half unit. Further, it belongs to the “gaoncars” the quota of the said “Vangorbarnim”, by dividing it among the “vangors” and by dividing per capita the quota pertaining to each “vangors” among the respective “gaoncars”.

In view of this, division will be effected among all the members shareholders, “gaoncars”, and natives, in the following manner:

From the sum to be distributed or from the dividend fixed in the annual account sheet, before any other thing is done, 17$ of “Vangorbarnim” will be kept aside and the remainder will be divided by 11.700. The quotient will indicate the dividend corresponding to each share.

When the dividend to be allotted to each share is thus calculated, the gains will be calculated of the zonns of the classes, zonnkars, natives and “gaoncars”.

Multiply by 4 the number of the zonnkars of the 3rd class enrolled during the year. Add to the product, 246 shares belonging only to this group and the sum will show the number of the shares, the dividend of which is to be divided among the enrolled members of this class. The quotient of this dividend, divided per capita among the enrolled zonnkars, will indicate the gains of the zonn of the class of the zonnkars.

The number of the “gaoncars” enrolled during the year will be multiplied by 2, and by adding to the product the number of the natives enrolled in the same year, the divisor which will divide the dividend of the shares will be found. These shares are those which remain out of the group of the said 2899 after deducting from them those which were allotted in the preceding calculation in favour of the zonnkars of the 3rd class.

The gains of the zonn of the “gaonkars” will be twice than those of the natives, besides the quota of 17$ of “Vangorbarnim” after its division among the 9 “vangors” which from the comunidade. This quota of each “vangor” will be sub-divided per capita among the enrolled “gaonkars” of the respective “vangor”.

Betalbatim:— It has got 5.400 shares. The dividend of each share will be calculated by dividing the dividend fixed in the annual accounts sheet for the said number of shares.

Calata:— It has got 1,300 shares. The dividend of each share will be calculated by dividing the sum to be distributed or the dividend fixed in the annual accounts sheet by the said number of shares.

Camorlim:— It has got 700 shares and also members known as “gaonkars” with right to the personal zonn. The zonn of the “gaonkars” is equivalent to 9 shares, plus the quota of 152 shares belonging to the group of the zonnkars.

Taking this into consideration, the first thing that will be done is to calculate the divisor in the following manner:

The number of the “gaonkars” enrolled during the year, will be multiplied by 9 and 700 shares will be added to the product; this sum will indicate the divisor of the respective year. After this is done, the sum marked for distribution or the dividend fixed in the annual accounts sheet will be divided by this division. The resulting quotient will be the dividend which pertains to each share in the respective year; and the gains of the personal zonn of the “gaonkars” will be the product of the same quotient multiplied by 9, added to the quota corresponding to the dividend of 152 shares of the group of the zonnkars. This quota will be found by dividing the same dividend of 152 shares by the number of the enrolled “gaonkars”, in the respective year.

Cana:— It has got 100 shares. The dividend of each share will be calculated by dividing the amount earmarked for distribution or the annual dividend fixed in the accounts sheet by the said number of shares.

Carmona:— It has got 6300 shares. The dividend of each share will be calculated by dividing the dividend fixed in the accounts sheet by the said number of shares.

Cavelossim:— It has got 900 shares and also members known as “gaonkars”, with right to personal zonn or the share of “vangor”. The share of “vangor” is composed of 11 shares assigned to the group of the zonnkars.

In view of this, division will be effected of the dividend fixed in the annual accounts sheet by 900 which is the number of the shares and the dividend will indicate what pertains to each share in the respective year.

The dividend of the 11 shares of the share of “vangor” will be divided among the 10 “vangors” composing the comunidade and the quota which pertains to each “vangor” will be sub-divided per capita among the enrolled “gaonkars” of the respective “vangor”. The result will be that which pertains to the “zonn” of each member of this class.

Cavorim:— It has got 3500 shares. The dividend of each share is calculated by dividing by the number of the shares the general dividend fixed in the annual accounts sheet, after deduction of the net income of the following fields:

1. Quepo of the zonns of the “gaonkars”;
2. Coli;

3. Canteiro de Coli;
4. Setmeamoroda;
5. Cumbleantanco of zonns;
6. Camorantanco of zonns;
7. Cumbleamoroda of zonn” do 1st “lanco”;
8. Cumbleamoroda of zonns do 2nd “lanco”;
9. Cotomoroda of zonns.

This comunidade has got also members known as “gaonkars” with right to the personal zonn and it belongs to them the exclusive income of the preceding fields, less 62$50.

Payable to the master (mordomo) of the feast of Our Lady of Belem and St. Anthony is to be considered as a zonnkar.

The profit of each zonns will be calculated by dividing the said net income by the number of the “gaonkars” enrolled in the same year, increased by one (Santo Antonio), after deducting from the said net income the said 62$50.

Chandor:— If has got 2400 shares. The dividend of each share will be calculated by dividing the general dividend fixed in the annual accounts sheet by the said number of the shares.

Chinchinim:— It has got 6.500 shares. The dividend of each share will be calculated by dividing the general dividend fixed in the annual accounts sheet by the said number of the shares.

Colva:— It has got 2600 shares. The dividend of each share will be calculated by dividing the general dividend fixed in the annual accounts sheet by the said number of the shares.

Curtorim:— It has got 22,000 shares and it has got also members known as “gaonkars”, zonnkars, “vadicares” and “zonnkars-escrivães”, with right to the personal zonn.

The zonn of the “gaonkars”, zonnkars and “vadicares” is equivalent to all shares plus the quota of 52 shares of the general group of the zonnkars.

The zonn of the “zonnkars-escrivães” is equal to that of the others. However, from it, it is deducted the quota corresponding to one zonn which is not paid to the zonnkars of this class.

In view of this, the first thing to do is to calculate the annual divisor in the following manner:

Multiply the number of the “gaonkars”, zonnkars, “vadicares” and “zonnkars-escrivães” enrolled during the year by 11; from the product, deduct 11 and also the quotient of the division of 52 by the number of the said enrolled members and add to the remainder 22.900 shares. The sum will indicate the divisor of the respective year.

When this is done, the general dividend fixed in the annual accounts sheet will be divided by the said divisor.

The resulting quotient will be the dividend which pertains to each share in the respective year.

The gains of the zonns of the “gaonkars”, zonnkars and “vadicares” will be the product of the multiplication of the same quotient by 11, added by the quota corresponding to the dividend of the 52 shares of the group of zonnkars. This quota will be calculated by dividing the dividend of the 52 shares by the number of the enrolled “gaonkars”, zonnkars, “vadicares” and “zonnkars-escrivães”.

For calculating the gains pertaining to the zonns of the “zonnkars-escrivães”, gains of all the zonns; calculated in the above form, belonging to the enrolled “zonnkars-escrivães”, less one, will be summed up and this sum will be divided among all the enrolled “zonnkars-escrivães”, and the quotient will be the gains of the zonn pertaining to the “zonnkars-escrivães”.

Davorlim:— It has got 2,900 shares. The dividend of each share will be calculated by dividing the general dividend as calculated in the annual accounts sheet by the said number of the shares.

Deussua:— It has got 600 shares. The dividend of each share will be calculated by dividing the general dividend as calculated in the annual accounts sheet by the said number of the shares.

Dicarpale:— It has got 1,800 shares. The dividend of each share will be calculated by dividing the general dividend as fixed in the annual accounts sheet by the said number of the shares.

Duncolim:— It has got 2,300 shares. The dividend of each share will be calculated by dividing the general dividend as fixed in the annual accounts sheet by the said number of the shares.

Dramapur:— It has got 3,400 shares. The dividend of each share will be calculated by dividing the general dividend as fixed in the annual accounts sheet by the said number of the shares.

Gandaulim:— It has got 600 shares. The dividend of each share will be calculated by dividing the general dividend as fixed in the annual accounts sheet by the said number of the shares.

Gonsua:— It has got 300 shares. The dividend of each share will be calculated by dividing the general dividend as fixed in the annual accounts sheet by the said number of the shares.

Guirdolim:— It has got 7.700 shares. The dividend of each share will be calculated by dividing the general dividend as fixed in the annual accounts sheet by the said number of the shares.

Loutulim:—It has got 4.300 shares and also members known as “gaonkars” and zonnkars, with right to the personal zonn and also “vantelos” with right to 4 zonns only.

The zonn of the “gaonkars” and zonnkars is equivalent to 10 shares plus the quota of 238 shares of the general group of the zonnkars, except in the first year when it falls due and then it is equal to one half.

The 4 zonns of the “vantelos” are equal to those of the “gaonkars” and zonnkars, but is paid fully even in the first year.

In view of this, the first thing to do is to calculate the annual division in the following manner:

The number of the enrolled “gaonkars” and zonnkars is to be multiplied by 10, considering in this calculation as half unit those who have been enrolled to receive first time their gains; 40 shares to be applied to the 4 “zonnkars-escrivães”, of “vantelos” plus 4300 shares will be added to the said product and the sum will indicate the divisor of the respective year.

When this is done, the general dividend fixed in the annual accounts sheet will be divided by the said divisor.

The quotient of this divisor will be the dividend pertaining to each share in the respective year. The gains of the zonn of the “gaonkars”, zonnkars and of each of the 4 zonns of “vantelos” will be equal to the product of the same quotient multiplied by 10, added by the quota corresponding to the dividend of 238 shares of the group of the zonnkars. This quota will be calculated by dividing the total of the same dividend concerning 238 shares by the number of the “gaonkars” and zonnkars, enrolled during the year, to which the 4 “vantelos” who might have been enrolled will be added.

The gains to be paid to the enrolled “gaonkars” and zonnkars, when first time they fall due, will be equal to one half of those which belong to others. This is to say that they will be equal to the product of the said quotient multiplied by 5 plus the quota corresponding to the dividend of 238 shares of the group of zonnkars, which, while it is being apportioned, will be taken as half unit.

Macasana:— It has got 7700 shares. The dividend of each share will be calculated by dividing the general dividend fixed in the annual accounts sheet by the said number of shares.

Nagoa:— It has got 5.600 shares and also members known as “gaonkars” and zonnkars with right to the personal zonn.

The zonn of the “gaonkars” and zonnkars is equivalent to 10 shares plus the quota of 3 shares of the general group of the zonnkars.

The “gaonkars”, besides the said zonn, receive mainly the net income of the properties listed below.

In view of this, in the first place, the annual divisor shall be calculated in the following manner:

The number of the enrolled “gaonkars” is to be multiplied by 10, plus 5600 shares shall be added to the said product and the sum will indicate the divisor of the respective year.

When this is done, the profits shall be divided by separating in the first place, the net income of the aforesaid properties from the amount to be distributed or that of the general dividend fixed in the annual accounts sheet, and the remaining shall be divided by the said divisor in the manner laid down above.

The quotient of this division will be the dividend pertaining to each share in the respective year.

The gains of the zonn of the “gaonkars” will be the product of the said quotient and multiplied by 10, added by the quota corresponding to the dividend of 3 shares of the general group of zonnkars. This quota will be calculated by dividing the total of the same dividend of 3 shares by the number of “gaonkars” and zonnkars enrolled in the respective year.

The quota of net income of the aforesaid properties shall be added to the gains of the zonn of “gaonkars”. This quota shall be fixed by dividing that income, per head, among the enrolled “gaonkars”.

Properties, the net income whereof is exclusively received by the gaonkars are:—

2nd Gorbata of the carpenters

3rd Tolloy and coconut grove of the shoemakers

The “gaonkars” are subject to annual tax, named “navim”, which consists of $10 per head and the zonnkars of the other three classes to $05 per head. This tax shall constitute the income of the comunidade and it shall be divided by the general number.

In view of this, in the first place, the annual divisor shall be calculated in the following manner:—

The number of the “gaonkars” and zonnkars of the other three classes enrolled in the said year, is to be multiplied by 28, plus 5400 shares shall be added to the said product and the sum will indicate the divisor of the respective year.

When this is done, the amount to be distributed or the general dividend fixed in the annual accounts sheet, shall be divided by the said divisor.

The quotient of this divisor will be the dividend pertaining to each share in the respective year and the gains of the personal zonn of the aforesaid four classes will be the product of the said quotient multiplied by 28, added by the quota corresponding to the dividend of 136 shares of the general group of zonnkars. This quota will be calculated by dividing the same dividend of 136 shares by the number of “gaonkars” and zonnkars of the other three classes enrolled in the respective year.

After paying the gains, calculated in the aforesaid manner, to “gaonkars” and other zonnkars the tax “navim” described above, shall be computed.

The zonn, of the “gaonkars” is equivalent to 12 shares and plus the quota of 38 shares belonging to the group of zonnkars.

In view of this, in the first place, calculate the annual divisor in the manner as follows—

Multiply the number of “gaonkars” enrolled in the year by 12 add 1800 shares to the product and the total will indicate the divisor of the respective year.

When this is done, the amount to be distributed or the dividend fixed in the annual accounts sheet will be divided by that divisor.

The quotient of this divisor will be the dividend pertaining to each share in the respective year, and the gains of the personal zonn, of “gaonkares” will be the product of the said quotient multiplied by 12, added by the quota corresponding to the dividend of 38 shares of the group of zonnkars. This quota will be calculated by dividing the same dividend of 38 shares by the number of “gaonkars” enrolled in the respective year.

The dividend of the 543 shares of the group of zonnkars will be sub-divided per head among the “gaonkares” enrolled in the year and by the 8 zonns of the comunidad, and the quotient of this operation will indicate the gains of the zonn of the respective year.

Add the remaining one fifth to the said 3$40 and plus the net income of the said property “Bandcazana” and the total is divided by number of “gaonkares” enrolled in the year, the quotient will indicate the gain of each zonn.

Sancoale:— It has got 2100 shares. The dividend of each share is calculated by dividing the general dividend fixed in the annual accounts sheet by that number of shares.

Concluding Note

Translation of the Code of Comunidades of 1961

I have been requested by the Government of Goa to re-examine the translated text of the Code of Comunidades of 1961, in force in Goa, submitted by Mr. Egipcio Noronha Rodrigues.

Looking backwards, there were merely Regulations called “Regulamentos”. Significantly after the Code of Comunidade of 1904, there was the Code of Comunidade of 1933 followed by the present Code. Therefore, the difference between “Regulamento” and “Code” is required to be noticed.

In the Indian system by and large any statutory enactment is called as an “Act”, while the subordinate legislation named as Regulations, by-laws, etc.,. But it is not a case, the Indian legislation does not recognize a Code at all. There is Goa Land Revenue Code of 1968 and in the same pattern there was the Bombay Land Revenue Code of 1879, which is now replaced by the Maharashtra Land Revenue Code of 1966. Question is whether they satisfy the requirements of the Code.

Sufficient at this stage to keep in mind that Article 44 of the Constitution of India speaks of a Code and not an Act.

I

Impact of Sole para of Article 5 of the Code of Comunidades 1961

Keeping aside for a moment the differences between a Code and an Act, the Code of Comunidade of 1961, has a marked difference as compared to the 1904 and 1933 Codes, as has been expressly mentioned by the legislature in the sole paragraph of Article 5, and explained in the Preamble in part III of the Code of Comunidades of 1961, in the following words. They are extracted below:

Article 5

“.....With effect from the year 1962 the Comunidades shall cease to pay “foro” to the “National Treasury”.”

Preamble

“Part III: Without reference to formal alterations that have been numerous and have touched almost every article of the old Code, we shall give a brief account of the modification with major impact introduced in the new Code.

The canon (Foros) which the Comunidades were paying the National Treasury have been abolished. By doing so, the historical truth was restored, which was stressed by Cunha Rivara by recognizing that the properties of the Comunidades belong to them, as a of their full ownership and that the “foros” do not correspond to its bifurcation, one being dominium utile and the other dominium directum, the latter of the state and former of the Comunidade.”

From the sole paragraph and the preamble extracted above, one thing is clear that all time in the past it was considered by the rulers that the comunidades were paying “foro” to the government in acknowledgement of their sovereign rights; but in the Code of Comunidades of 1961, it was acknowledged that the comunidades were full-fledged owners of both the interests and that there was no bifurcation of property like, dominium directum and dominium utile.

II

Whether to maintain the word “Comunidades” in the translated text?

At the forefront, I must record that I was confronted with the translation of the very word “Comunidades”. What does “Comunidades” mean? Is it a “community” of the village at large? Late Advocate Rui Gomes Pereira, in his work “Gaunkari, The old village association” called it “community”, while Dr. Olivinho J. F. Gomes, in his research book prepared under the aegis of Vassantrao Dempo Education and Research Foundation named “The Goan Village Communes” called it “communes”. But late Advocate Gomes Pereira, in his title of the book was very cautious to put it as “The old village associations” as “Gaonkari”. Even Chapter II of his book has been titled as gaonkari or communities. If it was said “Village Community” it would comprise not only “Gauncars” of village but of all other villagers, non-gauncars also. But if it is said “gauncari”, it would signify the association of gauncars only and not of all the villagers.

Sebastião Rodolfo Dalgado in his Luso-Asiatico Glossary publication by Asian Educational Services, Vol.I, p. 301 explains that “comunidade” is a portuguese name, also adopted in konkani, which conveys an “agricultural association” of each village of Goa, that possesses from olden times, properties in common, income of which accrues in favour of its members. English people adopted the portuguese denomination with the word “village community”. The Indian “comunidades” were in its origin a type of communes, with all the ingredients necessary for its social life”. It is therefore clear that it is not a commune but a sort of commune.

The same Article 1 of the Code, also uses the word “gauncarias” as synonym of “comunidades”. In this context, Dalgado at page 417 of the same volume explains that “gauncaria” is association or meeting of “gauncars” of a village. From conc. “gaunkari”, sansc. “gramakarya” – administration of village community. The comunidades being equated with “Gaunkaria”, i.e. association.

“Gaunkars” are founders of the village. The definition of the same given by Dalgado at Vol. I page 416 is that “gaunkar” is the member of the village agricultural association in Goa. From Konkani “gaunkar” from Sanskrit “grama” village and “kar” is owner.

In Black’s Law Dictionary , 6th edition inter alia “commune” is defined as “a self governing town or village, smallest administrative district of many European countries.”, they are public bodies. Therefore, they cannot be equated to an association of gaunkaris (comunidades) which are private associations.

“Comunidade” differs from the Panchayat. In the case association of gauncars income from the properties accrue to the “gaunkars” in proportion of their shareholding. But in the Panchayat no ownership vests in the residents.

The purpose of the long title of any Code while indicating the object of the legislation in brief, plays a pivotal role. Here “gaunkar” and the associations of “gaunkaris” play major role. I have therefore maintained the word of origin i.e. comunidades.

If in english terminology “village community” was adopted, it would have distorted the main concept of Comunidade itself giving appearance of a public body, i.e. community at large, though of village and not the ownership of gaunkars alone with the exclusion of any person besides gaunkars.

What is the meaning of the term “Code”?

John H. Tucker, Jr. in his foreword to the Louisiana Civil Code says:

“What is meant by the term “code” as we use it here is to designate an analytical and logical statement of general principles of law to be applied by deduction to specific cases and extended by analogy to cases where the aphorism “au-delà du code civil mais par le code civil” (beyond the civil code but through the civil code) can be applied”

Since in the meaning above there is mention to analogy, Article 16 of the Portuguese Civil Code be also be noted. It reads:

Article 16

(Interpretation and integration of the law)

“ Where the questions relating to rights and obligations cannot be resolved, either by the text law or by its spirit, nor even by analogous cases, envisaged in any other laws, they shall be decided by following principles of natural law as per circumstances of the case.”

The purpose behind the above article is that litigant should be afforded relief applying even the principles of analogy if not by natural law. The common law or the Indian Law do not accept the principle of analogy. Instances are there because the law does not provide, no relief is granted to the litigants. This is the trend which was there as it is evident from the judgment of the Supreme Court in the case of Vidya Vati V/s State of Punjab (AIR 1968 SC 519 at 522), held as follows:

Relevant passage is quoted below:

“A lacuna undoubtedly exists in the Act, but it is for the legislature to rectify it and not for the courts to give a strained meaning to the words used by the legislature which they do not bear”

Later a principle was evolved of “ironing out the creases” to use terminology of Lord Denning.

In true sense the Code is your friend as explained by John H. Tucker, Jr. in his said forward to the Louisiana Civil Code in following words:

“Here in the latest edition of the most important book in your library, the ‘Civil Code of Louisiana’. It is your most important book because it ushers you into society as a member of your parent’s family and regulates your life until you reach maturity. It then prescribes the rules for the establishment of your own family by marriage and having children, and for the disposition of your estate when you die, either by law or by testament subject to law.

It tells how you can acquire, own, use and dispose of the property generously or gratuitously.

It provides the rules for most of the special contracts necessary for the conduct of the nearly all of your relations with your fellowman: sales, loans (with or without security), leases, usufructs and servitudes; and finally, all of the rights and obligations governing your relations with your neighbor and fellowmen generally”

Applying the above test, the present Code of Comunidade of 1961 qualifies to be said “Code”

In the Article 1 of the Code of Comunidades of 1961, the term “comunidades” is defined as “Gaucarias” existing in the district of Goa and they are also governed by the private constitution of each of them. It is further laid down that wherever the Code is silent general law shall apply.

In Article 3 of the Code of Comunidades, 1961, the composition or the membership of the comunidades is explained. Article 5 of the Code of Comunidades, 1961, speaks about the administrative tutelage.

Article 6 of the Code of Comunidades, 1961, speaks of redemption of foro. Article 9 of the Code of Comunidades, 1961, prohibits the filing of the civil suit without the previous sanction of the Administrative Tribunal or the Administrator as the case may be. Article 10 of the Code of Comunidades, 1961, how the representation of the comunidades is done. The powers of the members are set in Article 26 of the Code of Comunidades, 1961, whereas disability to contest or vote are laid down in Article 29 of the Code of Comunidades, 1961.

Article 30 v, deals with the powers of the comunidades and Article 31 of the Code of Comunidades, 1961, speaks about the tutelage over the action of the comunidades. Article 33 of the Code of Comunidades, 1961, deals with the meetings of the comunidades. Article 39 of the Code of Comunidades, 1961 deals with the meetings of the Managing Committee and powers of the Managing Committee is set out in Article 64 of the Code of Comunidades, 1961. Therefore the powers of the president, attorney and clerk are set out in Article 64 of the Code of Comunidades, 1961. In Article 87 of the Code of Comunidades, 1961, the status of the clerk is given stating that they are subject to same discipline of the Public Offices. Article 91 of the Code of Comunidades, 1961 states that the certified copy issued have public faith. Article 99 of the Code of Comunidades, 1961 deals with Treasurers and 102 of the Code of Comunidades, 1961 deals with members of the safe.

The office of Administration stated in Article 116, 117 and 118 of the Code of Comunidades, 1961 and their powers are mentioned in Article 125.

The powers of the Governor are stated in Article 153 whereas powers of the Administrative Tribunal are stated in Article 154 of the Code of Comunidades, 1961.

There is no need to along the list. Exhaustive provisions have been made including the preparation of budget and its approval, what books have to be maintained in the office of Administration and as well as the Comunidades. Provisions for cadastral survey and encroachment have been made in detail. Procedure to let out the properties of Comunidades have been mentioned in detail. Grant of land by way of aforamento is permitted and recovery of debts by way of execution proceedings is contemplated.

In short, minutely, all the provisions to govern the institution have been made out and therefore any institution which intends to have a knowledge to operate an institution may very well adopt the same.

IV

What is the meaning of general law in Article 1 of the Code of Comunidade of 1961?

Article 1 of the Code of Comunidades, lays down that in case the code is silent, the provisions of the general law shall apply.

Which is the general law? It depends upon the subject to be dealt with. If it pertains to civil matter, it is the Civil Code. If it pertains to procedural aspect, the Portuguese Civil Procedure Code would apply. It is a case of association or society more particularly matter of issuance of shares, it is either the Civil Code or the Portuguese Commercial Code of 1888. If it is an administrative matter, then it is Reforma Administrativa Ultramarina (RAU) (Overseas Administrative Reform) and lastly if it is a service matter then it is “Estatuto do Funcionalismo Ultramarineno (EFU), Overseas Civil Service Statute”.

V

Methodology adopted in doing the translation

a) in form

It is required to explain the methodology adopted in the matter of translation, First of all the Portuguese Legislature uses the expression “Of the Constitution of Comunidades”.

The 1961 Code prefixes the word “of the” before each heading on caption of the chapter or of its divisions. The same pattern is followed in the French Civil Code, Portuguese Civil Code, Mexican Civil Code, Brazil Civil Code and for that matter Louisiana Civil Code which is one of the 9 states of U.S.A. where the “civil law” is followed in contradistinction with the remaining states of United States are known as the common law system.

I have come across a translation of the Mexican Civil and Commercial Code, done in English from Spanish language, that was undertaken by lawyers named Abraham Eckstein and Enrique Zepada.

The said Mexican lawyers, while translating the Mexican Civil Code in Spanish language eliminated the word “of the” before the heading of the Chapter.

To familiarize the lawyers who are following the Common Law, for convenience purpose adopted same matter and eliminated “of the” writing simply “Constitution of the Comunidade”.

b) In substance

In the matter of translation much care has to be taken. It is said that the language is a very weak conveyor of thought. It is more acute in the case of translation. There is a saying that the translator may be a “traitor” if proper meaning is not conveyed. In Italian language translator means “traduttore” but he may become “traditore” meaning hereby traitor.

In the light of this I remember what the said two translators have said in the preface to the said translated Code:

“The English version constantly departs from the tempting path of transliteration in order to adapt itself to the cognizable judicial language familiar to Anglo American jurists and parishioners, without sacrificing fidelity and preciseness in meaning of the text drafted in its original form. Though written in a different language, it carefully transposes into cultural and philosophical symbols used by American practitioner.”

We came across few words which created difficulties in the matter of translation:

a) Servidão:

The word “servidão” is used in Article 325(3) of the Code of Comunidades of 1961. There are two interests involving easement: dominant and servient. The reason is that as per the Anglo Indian rules expression used is with reference to dominant/beneficiary, (active interest) , whereas in Latin origin the concept used is with reference to (passive interest).

Definition of “servitude” may be seen in the Black’s law Dictionary, 6th edition as:
“servitude: The state of the person who is subjected, voluntarily or otherwise, to another person as his servant. A charge or burden resting upon one estate for the benefit or advantage of another; a species of incorporeal right derived from the civil law (see Servitus) and closely corresponding to the “easement” of the common law, except that “servitude” rather has relation to the burden or the estate burdened, while “easement” refers to the benefit or advantage or the estate to which it accrues.”

I therefore used the word “easement” instead of servitude.

b) Hypothecation:

There was also a difficulty in translation of the word ‘hypothecation’ which is found in Article 279 of the Code of Comunidade.

The word ‘hypothecation’ is found in the Portuguese Civil Code in Article 888 i.e. creation of security in moveable or immoveable. However, there is no corresponding equivalent either in the Indian Contract Act, 1872, nor in the Transfer of Property Act, 1882. There is a reference to the guarantee by of ‘Charge’ in Section 100 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, but that speaks of immovable property and not moveable property. Hypothecation under Indian Law however, is only of moveable property but without statutory recognition.

In this context, reference may be made to the Judgment of the High Court of Andhra Pradesh in the case of State Bank of India v. S. B. Shah Ali (died) & Ors., reported in AIR 1995 AP 134, wherein it is said at para 18 and 19 that ‘hypothecation’ is not a statutory creation but is a usage in merchantile field times immemorial, and according to that the possession is never with the creditor but with the debtor.

As per Article 888 of the Civil Code guarantee could be created in favour of the creditor as regards the property, moveable or immoveable, without parting with the possession. In the absence of such a provision, since the purpose was of offering security, the same was translated as ‘mortgage’ with the clear understanding that ‘hypothecation’ is not recognized in the Indian Law.

It may be noted that reference to the word ‘hypothecation’ in the Indian Law is found only in the Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002, under Section 2(n). However, the term ‘hypothecation’ therein is qualified by the words – “as a security for financial assistance and includes floating charge and crystallization of such charge into fixed charge on moveable property”. The legislation would, therefore, come into play only when there is a case of financial assistance.

Wharton's Law Lexicon, 15th Edition, speaks of 'hypothecation' as a 'pledge' wherein the possession is retained. However, in case of a pledge it is implicit that the possession is with the creditor.

Therefore, hypothecation under Portuguese law has been translated as "mortgage".

c) Usufruct

The word 'usufruct' is foreseen in the Civil Code under Article 2197 onwards. However, there is no reference in the Indian Law to usufruct as a guarantee. Therefore, there is no equivalent to usufruct as a guarantee as it appears in the Civil Code.

Reference to usufruct is found in the chapter of mortgage while dealing with usufructuary mortgage.

d) Arrendamento

Under Portuguese Civil Code sale, gift, hypothecation, arrendamento, renting (locatio) were contracts. Therefore renting was known as "arrendar". Under Indian law though basic foundation of Transfer of Property is a contract, yet the reason best known to the framer of the law, leases, mortgagees have been brought under the umbrella of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 without any valid reason.

One could understand that in a case of gift or sale there is a conveyance, but it would not be correct to say that in the case of mortgage or lease there is a conveyance. If the translation of chapter V starting from 317 of the Code of Comunidade, 1961, as renting it would have been difficult to explain the position. Therefore for convenience it has been translated as "lease".

Reference to the concept of arrendamento is made in the Portuguese Civil Code in Article 1595 which reads thus:

Article 1595

"There is a contract of locatio (renting), when anyone hands over to another, for a certain period and against specific rent, the use and enjoyment of certain things."

Reference may also be made to Article 1596 of Portuguese Civil Code which reads thus:

Article 1596

"The locatio is said to be arrendamento (renting), where it pertains to immovable property, if it is related to movable, it is called hire."

The "contract of locatio" is nothing but arrendamento of immovable property.

Definition of "locatio" may be seen in Wharton's Law Lexicon, 15th edition which reads thus:

"Locatio: hire, a letting out"

Following this techniques we had to make many adjustments for e.g. there is a chapter dealing with "renting the paddy fields and giving on rent for a long period (Article 317 of the Code of Comunidade) and normal renting see for lease period in Article 291 of the Code of Comunidade, 1961, onwards for a period of three years.

For convenience purpose, I adopted the word “lease” whereas lease being part of the Transfer of Property Act, creates interest in the property whereas under Portuguese Code it was a matter of contract and does not create any interest in the land.

The translator of earlier compilation had translated the heading of chapter V starting from Article 317 of the Code of Comunidade as of “long term leases”, whereas for chapter VI starting from article 324 of the Code of Comunidade (aforamento) translated as permanent leases.

e) Aforamento

There is chapter with heading “Dos aforamento ou enfiteuses” , whereas there is prior Chapter VI starting from Article 324 of the Code of Comunidade where as there is another chapter V called “Dos arrendamentos a longo prazo” starting from article 317 of the Code of Comunidade. If I translate article 324 of the Code of Comunidade, I would have said “aforamento” “In Portuguese term, but using English terminology it would be “emphyteusis”. Earlier chapter V starting from Article 317 of the Code of Comunidade as contract of “arrendamento” (renting for a long period). But the long period is restricted to 18 years as per paragraph 1 of article 317 of the Code of Comunidades, 1961.

The concept of emphyteusis is explained in Wharton’s Law Lexicon, 15th edition which reads thus:

“Emphyteusis, the jus emphyteuticarium, or as it is more generally called, emphyteusis, was right of enjoying all fruits, and disposing at pleasure of the property of another, subject to the payment of a yearly rent (pension or canon) to the owner.”

It was perpetual and even non payment of foro could not entail eviction as said in article 1671 of the Code. Much to the contrary the right of grantor would be only to recover the foro not more than five years in default. But in case of rental non payment of rent would entail eviction. These are therefore two completely diametrical opposite concepts which the translator of earlier time compilation brought it under one regime and it was a difficult task to convince the judge on the face of the government translation.

Grant of “aforamento” was the power of the government as stated in article 153 clause 9 of the Code of Comunidade which has been translated as follows:

Article 153 (9)

“To grant letting by leases (aforamento), to authorize the exchange of lands of comunidades and determine its reversion.”

The translator deserves compliments because he used “aforamento” which would save the case of the party.

Reference may be made to Article 1653 of Portuguese Civil Code which deals with Aforamento which reads as follows:

Article 1653

“There is contract of “emprazamento”, “aforamento” and “enfiteusis”, when the owner of any property transfers its dominium utile to another person, the latter undertaking to pay him certain specific pension which is called “foro” or “canon”.

Dr. Luis da Cunha Gonçalves, in his Treatise on the Civil Code Vol. IX page. 211, commenting on “emphyteusis”, writes:

“1301. Origin and historic evolution of the contract of “emprazamento” or “enfiteuse” – The contract of “emprazamento”, “aforamento” or “enfiteuse” is one of the oldest form of contract which the European law created; and so widely spread and entered into to give effect to, that the majority of modern legislations adopted it and there are quite a few jurists who have not dealt with the same. Three different names were given to such contract by the old jurists and the legislature adopted them in Article 1653; but only the word “emphyteusis” is the classical term of the universal use; whereas the word “emprazamento” is less justified, even though in Portugal it has been used for quite a long time since the Ordinances, book iv, title 37, designate as “prazos” the emphyteutic property. Originally, “emprazamento” was meaning any contract or reciprocal “prazo”, however, from the 14th century, the same word started having the meaning of “emphyteusis” .

The word “emphyteusis” is of Greek origin and means “plantation” or simply “cultivation”. It shows that this contract came to us from old Greece. From the time of Republics and Kingdom of Esparta and Lacedemonia, this name was given to concessions (grants), which the public domain was making to the private persons of the uncultivated lands, which the State could not cultivate directly and the citizens could not acquire by purchase. Therefore, because the contract of renting was not sufficiently encouraging, and would not give any security nor compensate for the works put in by agriculturists, who were subject to eviction exactly when that land was started to give produce, the State was demanding a small annual installment, and such concessions (grants) were perpetual or for long period and had for one of the condition of exploring the land and bringing it under cultivation. The installment which the concessionaire was paying was in cash or kind and was called “canon” – denomination even subsisting; this installment was not clearly equivalent to the value of the land, but was affirmation of the domain of the grantor, even though the grantee has full enjoyment of the land and could transmit the same to his heirs with same juridical obligations. This institution was born principally on account of lack of cultivators and lack of incentive to the few who were knowing the art of cultivation.

In the old Rome, similar economic and social necessities had raised an identical juridical institution, but in classical Roman law this institution was not designated in the same name; the old jurists were mentioning it as “locação perpetua (si qua res in perpetuum locata sit, quod evenit in praediis municipum)” and they were granted as agri vectigales or municipal land, or also the land of the Emperor or latifundists (large estate holders).”

To understand the mechanism in English law it is profitable to extract a passage from Black's Law Dictionary, 6th edition:

“Feudal law. The mode or system of holding lands or tenement in subordination to some superior which in feudal ages, was the leading characteristics of real property. Tenure is a direct result of feudalism, which is separated the dominium directum (the dominion of soil) which is placed, mediately or immediately in the crown, from the dominium utile (the possessory title) the right to use and profit in the soil designated by term “Seisin” which is the highest interest of a subject an acquired.”

VI

Distinction between “arrendamento” and “aforamento” at glance

- a. “Arrendamento” is a transaction between the landlord and the tenant while “aforamento” is a transaction between the owner and a stranger.
- b. “Arrendamento” is for a certain period (Article 1595 of the Portuguese Civil Code and Section 105 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882) whereas “aforamento” is perpetual.
- c. In case of “Arrendamento” rent which is payable by the tenant to the landlord is as per the agreement between the parties whereas, in “aforamento”, foro is a sum of amount fixed by grantor which is payable by the grantee to the grantor in recognition of the superior rights of the grantor.
- d. In case of “aforamento”, after passage of 20 years the foro is may be redeemed by payment of 20 years of installments and one more additional installment if levable and with such payment both the interest, dominium directum merge into dominium utile and the contract of emphyteusis comes to an end and the grantee becomes full-fledged owner.
- e. “Arrendamento” can be terminated; “aforamento” cannot be terminated even on account of non payment of foro. The right of the grantor is only to recover the foro of last 5 years.
- f. In case of “aforamento” the grantee is entitled to gift, mortgage the property, the transferee being subject to payment of foro.

Before concluding, I must record that I could complete my task due to tireless efforts and valuable assistance given by co-translator, Mr. Egipcio Noronha Rodrigues.
